Search Notes

Dear Examiner COLBERT:

Please find attached the results of your search for the above-referenced related cases. The search was conducted in Dialog, in EBSCOhost (mandatory I & PC Abstract databases) and in ProQuest (Financial Times database), as well as online and in the LEXIS system. All mandatory databases for allowance were searched.

I have listed potential references of interest for either or both cases in the opening section of these search results. However, please be sure to review the entire report. There may be additional references that you find useful.

Please note that the results, after the potential references of interest, proceed through an Inventor search (which is provided without regard to priority date and in GREEN TEXT) and then to results in both Abstract and Full Text databases (which are more directly screened for priority date).

If you have any questions about the search, or need a refocus, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Thank you for using the EIC, and we look forward to your next search!

Intellectual property information management method involves designating attorney-client communications with indication of automatic identification so as to purge upon request by user
Original Titles:System and method for purging messages in a legal information system Alerting
Abstract ...NOVELTY - The method involves storing and processing the information in a data storage and processing system used by attorneys, and recording attorney-client communications and communications from a government agency respecting a legal matter. The attorney-client communications are designated with an indication that allows the communications to be identified automatically. The attorney-client communications are automatically identified and purged upon a request by a user. ...USE - For management of intellectual property information, legal information, and patent and trademark applications... ...ADVANTAGE - The messages in the legal information system are automatically purged effectively... Original Publication Data by AuthorityArgentinaPublication No.
Inventor name & address:Lundberg, Steven W... Original Abstracts:There is disclosed method and apparatus for storing and processing information in a data storage and processing system used by attorneys, and recording attorney-client communications and communications from a government agency respecting a legal matter. At least some of the attorney-client communications can be designated with a indication that allows them to be identified automatically. These communications can then be automatically identifying and purging at least some of the attorney-client communications upon a request by a user. Claims:1. A method comprising:storing and processing information in a data storage and processing system used by attorneys;recording attorney-client communications and communications from a government agency respecting a legal matter;designating at least some of the attorney-client communications with a indication that allows them to be identified automatically; andautomatically identifying and purging at least some of the attorney-client communications upon a request by a user.

AuthorityArgentinaPublication No. Inventor name & address:Lundberg, Steven W... Original Abstracts:This application discloses method and system in which a party independent of the law firm contracts with the law firm to reimburse the law firm for interest costs incurred on out-of-pocket expenses paid by the law firm. In one embodiment, a law firm incurs an out-of-pocket expense for a client, and contemporaneously with incurring the expense, the independent party assesses a fee to the law firm for the particular out-of-pocket expense. The fee is assessed, in one embodiment, according to the amount of time the law firm is expected to carry the expense. The law firm bills the client for the expense and associated assessed fee as disbursements. The law firm receives payment by the client of the expense and the assessed fee, whereby the client reimburses the law firm for the expense and also reimburses the law firm for the assessed fee. The actual carry period for the expense is determined by calculating the time from the point the expenses was incurred/advanced by the firm until the time reimbursement for the expense was received. The assessed fee is paid to the independent party. The independent party pays the law firm an interest payment to reimburse the law firm for the actual cost of carrying the expense, such that the law firm is reimbursed only for an actual cost incurred in carrying the expense--the independent party reimburses the law firm for the interest cost incurred from the proceeds of the assessed fee. Claims:1. A method, comprising:storing data regarding a plurality of law firm clients in a database;designating at least some of those clients to be billed for interest incurred financing out-of-pocket expenses;the law firm financing an out-of-pocket expense using law firm capital or a loan from a financing source;the law firm billing a client for a particular financed out-of-pocket expenses;an independent party (independent of the law firm) billing the law firm a financing fee associated with the financed out-of-pocket expense;the law firm billing the client for at least a portion of the financing fee as a disbursement at the same time as billing the client for the associated out-of-pocket expense;the client paying the law firm for the financed out-of-pocket expense and for the financing fee disbursed to the client;determining how long the out-of-pocket expense was financed for based on when the law firm was paid by the client and when the out-of-pocket expense was incurred, and determining an actual financing cost incurred by the law firm as a result of financing the out-of-pocket cost for the client; andthe independent party reimbursing the law firm for the actual financing cost incurred by the law firm using at least in part proceeds from the financing fee billed to the law firm.

PACTEL'S LEGAL TEAM HAD BETTER GET READY FOR SOME COMPETITION

Abstract:

Lawyers and Clients column discusses new pressures on in-house legal teams at some companies; notes that Pacific Telesis Group, in a move to make its in-house legal team competitive with outside law firms, has formed a separate subsidiary that will sell legal services; the legal unit will produce bills for its 'clients,' other PacTel subsidiaries; drawing (M)
